

Irked Senators Have to Accept Money Bill

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The first congressional session of the Kennedy administration wound up in an angry whirlwind early today with the Senate having to accept a money bill which the House bounced to it on a take it or leave it basis.

The House passed the $1,125,927,341 supplemental appropriation and then quickly closed up shop at 4:20 a.m. With the House in adjournment and no chance for compromise, the Senate was forced to go along with the bill providing money for a wide variety of federal agencies.

The slightest Senate amendment would have killed the measure and forced President Kennedy to call a special session to get the needed funds.

Senators minced no words in expressing anger at the House adjournment prior to final Senate action.

"We have taken a shellacking, and I think it's outrageous," protested Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois challenged his colleagues to "show how deep is your conviction."

"Let's find out whether the House of Representatives can afford the Senate," Dirksen roared.

But after additional angry complaints, the Senate passed the measure on a voice vote and quit at 6:16 a.m.

The session which ended in the flare of tempers had run up appropriations totaling about $92.5 billion, a peacetime record.

In its home stretch session of about 19 hours, the heavily Democratic Congress also:

Voted $3,914,600,000 for foreign aid for the year which started July 1. The final figure was a qualified victory for President Kennedy, who originally asked for $4,055,500,000.

Although Kennedy was denied the advance Treasury financing he sought, he won a five-year authorization for his economic development loan program — the longest ever voted.

Cleared a $3,908,380,000 public works appropriation for flood control, rivers and harbors, reclamation and atomic energy projects.

Sent to the White House a bill authorizing the Treasury to assign a number to each income taxpayer in a move to keep closer tabs on tax returns.

Put aside until next year was a bill designed to ease the tax burden on Du Pont stockholders who might receive 63 million shares of General Motors stock under an antitrust divestiture proceeding.

Since convening last Jan. 3, parts of Kennedy's New Frontiers program. It also rejected several of his major requests.

Pretty Easy Deal for This Attorney

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A lawyer in an Albany suburb has been offered a contract whereby he would be paid $1,300 a year by his school district for driving his two daughters to a private school in the family car.

The lawyer, Walter F. Wessendorf Jr., bid for the contract and has it but has not returned it, signed to the school district, the district business manager said today.

The manager said the contract would not be final until the state approved it.

The district awarded the contract for transportation to the Albany Academy for Girls, under terms of a state law that extended the distance districts must transport pupils who choose to attend parochial and any other private schools.

Wessendorf was the lowest of two bidders on a contract to transport his daughters to school, the superintendent of the Guildersland Central School District said.

Wessendorf's automobile has been licensed by the State Public Service Commission and is, in effect, a school bus for the two girls, Supt. Alton U. Farnsworth said.

"The state doesn't say a parent can't bid on transportation of his children," he said.

The law, which went into effect at the start of this school year, requires school districts to supply transportation for pupils within the district to schools they choose within 10 miles of their homes.

"We don't like the law, but we have to live with it," Farnsworth said.

Parents of pupils attending private schools must request transportation from the district, Wessendorf, who practices law from his home, made the request, the school official said.

The superintendent said the district uses its own buses within the district, provides bus tokens for high school pupils attending private schools and lets contracts for other needed transportation.

The Wessendorf children were the only ones attending Albany Academy for Girls whose parents had asked for transportation, Farnsworth said.

Beginning Monday, Oct. 2, the price of lunches in the elementary schools of Hope will be raised from 20 to 25 cents per day and the price of high school lunches will go from 25 to 30 cents per day. This announcement was made by Supt. James H. Jones who said that in order to maintain the quality of food now being served the increase was necessary. The lunch program is not part of the school budget and must sustain itself each year with a cutback in reimbursements the board knew prior to the start of school that lunchrooms might have to charge more. However, Mr. Jones said we tried to keep it the same as last year but couldn't.

Morton Food Co. products were strewn all along the tracks. So far as could be determined Mosser suffered a minor arm injury. The train was delayed about 1 1/2 hours but had to "limp" on into Texarkana due to "flat" wheels caused by braking it to a stop.

Once Bustling River Town Has 3 Left

MOUNT OLIVE, Ark. (AP)—This once bustling riverport town had a population of three today — G. E. Washington, his wife and daughter.

Once there were over 500 residents. Now most Izard County folks call Mount Olive a ghost town. Washington agrees.

"I guess you could say the post office closing was the last rites for Mount Olive," said Washington, who has lived here for 30 of his 82 years.

The post office was ordered closed earlier this year. It was the only business left.

Located on the White River, 38 miles northwest of Batesville, Mount Olive used to be the county seat. But the county seat was moved to Melbourne in 1875, when river traffic began slowing down.

Even so, there was a living to be made in timber, farming and musshell shell digging and Mount Olive died by inches until the speedup brought by the World War II years.

By the scores, families left Mount Olive for better economic opportunities. Now there's just one, living among the abandoned dwellings, stores, the sagging schoolhouse and empty church.

"The only thing we have plenty of here now is solitude," said Washington, "too much of it."

Hope for Any Tax Cut in Year Fades

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Hope for a tax cut next year, a promising young sprout in the spring of 1961, dried up and died during the long, hot session of the 1961 Congress.

There's still brave talk about thoroughgoing reform of the rambling income tax structure, which could well include a reduction in tax rates for many. But congressional realists say the odds are long against any such change being accomplished before 1963 at the earliest.

The House Ways and Means Committee is committed to starting the 1962 session with an all-out effort to write the kind of limited, first-step tax reform bill which President Kennedy wanted enacted this year. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., says he hopes to send a bill to the House by February.

That would take some doing, since the committee is known to be deeply divided, even after weeks of discussion, on such basic questions as withholding of income tax on interest and dividends, tightening up on expense account allowances and the form of tax encouragement to be given business modernization investment.

The chances for enactment of reformed and perhaps lowered taxes during the next session depend on the chances of the committee finishing work on the interim bill, taking care of other inevitable chores and then completing the formidable preliminary work on a major overhaul—all this in a session likely to be much shorter than the 1961 session. All House members and one-third of the senators by this time next year will be deep in election campaigns.

Lawmakers Only Praise the President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President
Kennedy was credited today by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., with having recouped in his address to the United Nations some U.S. prestige losses on Cuba and Laos.

Humphrey, the assistant Democratic leader who had worked closely with White House experts on the disarmament program the President laid down Monday, called the speech "the most remarkable and moving message of a political leader in the history of our country."

Humphrey said it went a long way toward erasing the prestige-losing stigma of the Cuban invasion fiasco and the failure to follow strong words with action in Laos.

To Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, top Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, it was "a great speech."

"The President called a spade a spade," Wiley said. "He was equal to the occasion."

In Gettysburg, Pa., former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who recently has been critical of some of Kennedy's foreign policy actions, said he was impressed very deeply that "the President said there is no additional security in merely pursuing a spiral of arms racing."

"He saw clearly that there could be a weakening. We saw here a definite desire to protect our country."

Eisenhower said he agreed with GOP National Chairman William E. Miller — a vigorous critic of Kennedy's foreign policies — that in his speech the President was "summing up and expressing very

New York Ousting Needy Families

NEW YORK (AP) — City and state officials are speeding the return to other states and Puerto Rico of families they say come make no attempt to find work.

Peter Kasius, deputy state welfare commissioner, disclosed Monday that 142 welfare appli-taxpayers' expense — to their home states and Puerto Rico in the past two months.

Of these, Kasius said, 43 returned to Puerto Rico and 52 to Southern states.

Kasius' disclosure followed charges last week by officials in New York that some states were laying out money for welfare recipients to come here.

Hundreds of Prisoners Die

hundreds of persons have died

They occurred in the last few months before the Chinese released him last July from Dhap chi camp.

Lobsang said the camp contained some Chinese Communists imprisoned on unknown charges,

Newburgh's Manager Under Guard

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—City Manager Joseph Mitchell, author of this city's controversial welfare "crackdown" plan, was given a police guard today after a bitter dispute of another matter.

Mitchell said Mayor William D.
Ryan and the later's son, William M., 21, a city employee, "accused" him Monday night to protest the docking of several days' pay from the son's paycheck for time off.

Mitchell quoted the son as telling him: "I'll get you if it takes the rest of my life."

He said also the mayor told him: "You're dead in my book;
the sooner you get out of town
the better."

The mayor said later he meant that Mitchell was "dead" politically, as far as Ryan was concerned, and that no physical violence was implied. Ryan has been outspokenly critical of Mitchell's welfare program.

Police Chief John E. Tierney said he did not believe Mitchell was in danger of physical harm but that he provided a police car to take him to City Hall this morning. No guard was assigned to Mitchell's office, but the police station is in the same building.

Atomic Group Opens Meet

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The East-West International Atomic Energy Agency opened its fifth general conference today with a Communist appeal to the world's powers to stop nuclear testing and work jointly for general disarmament.

The conference's outgoing president, Georgi Nadjakov, chief delegate of Communist Bulgaria, said in his opening address that the big powers "have stocked up enough nuclear material to plunge the world into a catastrophe if common sense does not prevail."

Nadjakov charged "certain delegates here are not eager to seek the most reasonable solution to this burdensome problem." It was obvious he meant the Western powers.

The conference then elected Argentina's chief delegate, Rear

Actor's Death Results in Damage Suit

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Jeff Chandler's death last June has resulted in a $1.5-million damage suit against six doctors and a hospital.

The suit, filed Monday, alleged negligence, malpractice, wrongful death and assault and battery. It was filed on behalf of Chandler's children and his estate.

Named as defendants were Drs. Marvin A. Korbin, Peter B. Samuels, Sam Galinson, Kenneth J. Richland, Alan M. Rosenberg and Milton Rosenthal; and Culver City Hospital. Also named in the suit were 20 John Does.

"The victim was caused to die," the action said, "by the combined negligence of the defendants, or one or more of them, and it is requested that the court determine the liability of each."

Chandler, 42, underwent surgery at Culver City Hospital May 13 for a slipped spinal disc.

A few days later he suffered severe internal bleeding and was given 55 pints of blood. He rallied and seemed headed for recovery, but suffered a relapse and died June 17. Death was attributed to general blood infection.

There was no immediate comment from the doctors.

The hospital released a statement disclaiming any responsibility in the death.

The suit asked $1 million for daughters Jamie, 14, and Dana, 11, plus $500,000 for the estate. Chandler's divorced wife, Marjorie asked nothing.

DOROTHY DIX Family on Spaghetti; Father Makes $500 a Month

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: For years I've read your column and tried to apply the advice to my own miserable situation.

I turn to you for first-hand counsel about my 11-year marriage to an undisciplined, irresponsible, heartless spoiled brat of 31.

Our three lovely children have been all mine through sickness and health since the day they were born. Their father is a chaser, drinker, wife-beater and penny-pincher. We have lived on spaghetti for a week at a time more than once when he was making $500 a month. He took land my folks gave me, money I earned and keeps other women.

Three months ago I decided I'd pounded my head against the brick wall long enough. Until then he was confident I would never leave. Now, he insists I must be in love with another man to come to such a mad decision; cheeks my every move and doesn't even want girl friends to call me.

He threatens to kill himself (I hid the gun) and has beaten and choked me until I am really frightened. He shouts, "You are not going to take my children and leave me!" All of a sudden small things like this cause friction between us. I work at a full-time job to keep the house in order. I have a good job and am sure the children, as well as myself, will be content once settled in a new environment. However, my mother, believing my husband will change, opposes the divorce. Please give me your answer—Tied and Bound.

Dear Tied and Bound: Your best advantage in this hideous situation is that you recognize the fact that your husband has never grown up. Try to get him to go with you to a marriage counselor. If he will not, I can see no other solution than a legal separation or a divorce, for the mental health of your children as well as your own. Beginning such action might change him, but I doubt it. The important thing is to have the courage to act, and to act immediately.

Dear Helen: My husband and I both have children by former marriages. I give my boys ages 10 and 14, certain duties about the house. This requires discipline. My husband would rather clean after his two sons—age 12 and 14—than make them do it. They have no routine, often eating their dinner at midnight and leaving the mess for him to wash up. Small things like this cause friction between us. I work at a full-time job to keep the house in order. I have a good job and am sure marriage to be happy but, as things are, it is in danger of cracking. Help me, if you can!—E.

Dear E.: Call a family council. Sit around a table, all six of you and talk this problem out.

Explain to the boys that this marriage of their father's and yours is a partnership in which they, too, have a stake. The rewards are love, security and an education in whatever field they choose.

Tell the children that to secure these rewards, they must pitch in and help. Make them memorize that old maxim, "Order is Heaven's First Law," by counting of one hand. Without organization their lives will be chaotic, aimless and futile. Reason with the youngsters along these lines, treat them as adults and you'll have no need to discipline or set an example.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Teenage Code."

Powell Show Could Be a Good One

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Powell got his NBC anthology series off to a smooth start Tuesday night with a glossy detective story which could easily be developed into an attractive weekly feature.

"Who Killed Julie Greer?" was the opening show and Powell shrewdly made it into a special audience-builder by having such stars as Ralph Bellamy, Ronald Reagan, Mickey Rooney and Nick Adams playing small colorful parts.

The story itself was a rather uncomplicated one; somebody strangled a pretty playgirl—somebody whose name was in her little black book. Police Inspector Amos Burke, played by the urbane Powell, headed the investigation to find which of her admirers it was.

The windup, unfortunately, was rather easy to predict. But the interesting and attractive character was the one Powell played, a millionaire career cop who rode around in a chauffeur-driven limousine with built-in bar and telephone, jauntily solving crimes.

CBS' new "Leahad and Me" series also bowed in Tuesday night. If nothing else, the program ought to produce some irate letters from New England viewers who might feel with some justification that their mores and certainly their speech have been libeled.

The comedy series is pegged on that old chestnut, the smart New Yorker who moves to the old New England small town. Naturally, the big city wise guy is go-

To Study Crimes
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ways to reduce crimes against banks and banking-type institutions will be discussed at four conferences in Arkansas next month, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said Tuesday. Law enforcement officers, U.S. attorneys and bank representatives will be invited to attend. Conferences are scheduled at Jonesboro Oct. 3, Fort Smith, Oct. 4, Camden Oct. 5 and Little Rock Oct. 12.

ing to be outwitted at every turn. The script is studded with homely, rural truisms but the truly remarkable aspect of the show is an uninhibited laugh track that sends out loud bleats almost without provocation.

Robert Sterling, a tall, slim, handsome fellow with a rather heavy hand with comedy, plays the transplanted New York-er. George Chandler is Ichabod, Sterling's elderly Yankee sparring partner. This one is really a pretty tired clumsy effort.

Recommended tonight: "The New Steve Allen Show," premiere ABC, 7:30-8:30 EDT—the popular comedian-musician returns to a new network with a variety show sorely missed last season; "Top Cat," premiere, ABC, 8:30-9—new animated cartoon series with Arnold Stang; Victor Borge special, CBS, 9-10; "Carnegie Hall Salutes Jack Benny," CBS special, 10-11.

INTRODUCING FOR 1962 THE NEW LEAN BREED OF DODGE

The black car above is the 1962 Dodge Dart 440. First of the Action-Economy cars. A low price, full-size Dodge that will outrun, out-economize most any car around. Accelerates seven percent faster on five percent less gas than a comparable '61 model. Reason? Less dead weight. For instance, its automatic transmission (with V8 engine) has an aluminum case, weighs 60 pounds less than last year's. The '62 Dart 440 is more comfortable. Has chair-high seats, a fold-down center armrest in front for bucket seat comfort. The white car above is the Lancer GT, America's first Sports Compact. It carries five. Corners flat. Handles neat. Really goes. Bucket seats, all-vinyl interior, full carpeting are standard.

Full-size or compact, every 1962 Dodge is rust-proofed. Has a smooth Torsion-Aire Ride. Goes 32,000 miles between grease jobs. As always, the name Dodge is your assurance of complete dependability.

Yankees and Redlegs in World Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Roger Maris, 27-year-old New York Yankee outfielder, and the Cincinnati Reds, a pennant-starved team for 23 years, both have realized their season goals - Maris a little late and the Reds in plenty of time.

Maris blasted his 60th home run Tuesday night to equal Babe Ruth's record output of 1927. It will go down in the books as a separate record by order of Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick because Maris wasn't able to do it in 154 games.

This season, the American League schedule was lengthened to 162 games and Frick ruled that Maris' efforts - even if he hits more homers in the final four games - will be listed in a separate category from Ruth's.

The Reds, who finished sixth last year and were not rated better than fifth by the experts this season, won the National League pennant with a big assist from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Reds defeated the Chicago Cubs Tuesday, 6-3, in Chicago, then headed back for Cincinnati to await the results of the Los Angeles-Pittsburgh two-night doubleheader in Pittsburgh.

Maris Wallops No. 60, Looks for 61 Now

Now for No. 61.

Roger Maris, who hit his 60th home run Tuesday night as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 3-2, has four games remaining in which to get the home run that will make him the most productive one-season homer hammerer in major league baseball history.

He'll get his first shot at No. 61 today against the Orioles' Steve Barber (17-12). Then he takes a day off Thursday before resuming his efforts to surpass Babe Ruth's 60-homer total of 1927 with a three-game set against Boston that closes out the 162-game schedule.

The Cincinnati Reds became the Yanks World Series opponents by clinching the National League pennant by beating Chicago 6-3 while Los Angeles was eliminated in the second game of a two-night doubleheader against Pittsburgh.

No. 60 for Maris was a high arching shot off a 2-2 pitch by Baltimore right-hander Jack Fisher in the third inning. It came four games to late to qualify for an official tie with Ruth's 34-year-old record under the 154-decision limit set by Commissioner Ford Frick. The game was the Yanks 159th, including one tie.

After grounding a single to center in the first inning, Maris fouled off the first two pitches by Fisher in the third, took two balls, then fouled one into the dirt before connecting with a drive that shot into the upper right field stands, about three feet fair.

"It's the greatest thing that has happened to me," said Maris after the game, "probably the greatest thing that ever will happen to me. Now that I've got it, I'd like to get one more, just one more."

Maris' homer was the Yanks' first run off Fisher (10-13), who led 2-0 going into the third, but lost the game on Johnny Blanchard's run-producing single in the sixth and an error by outfielder Jackie Brandt in the seventh that let in the clincher following singles by Billy Gardner and Tom Tresh. Reliever Rolfe Sheldon (10-5) was the winner.

In other AL games, Kansas City beat Detroit 8-5, Cleveland defeated Minnesota 7-3, Washington nipped Los Angeles 3-2 and Chicago and Boston split. The White Sox won the first 7-5. The Red Sox came back to take the nightcap by the same score.

Rocky Colavito hit homer No. 44 for the Tigers but the A's rapped rookie starter Ron Nischwitz (0-1) for six runs in the first three innings to put it away. Gary Bell (12-15), who had a shutout until Zoilo Versalles hit a three-run homer in the eighth, went all the way for the Indians and stroked three hits in a 14-hit attack against the Twins.

Gene Green's ninth-inning homer broke a 2-2 tie and gave the Senators and Bennie Daniels (11-11) the victory over the Angels as homers accounted for all the runs.

Roy Sievers, who also hit a homer in the second game, won the opener for the White Sox and Ray Herbert (12-12) with a two-run shot in the seventh off Gene Conley (11-14). The Red Sox won the nightcap when pinch hitter Gary Geiger smashed a two-run triple in the eighth.

bleheader in Pittsburgh. The Dodgers, the only team that had a mathematical chance of catching the Reds, won the first game, 5-3. The Pirates, who had won the pennant and defeated the New York Yankees in the World Series last year, won the second game, 8-6.

So the Reds will meet the Yankees, who clinched the American League pennant a week ago, in the World Series starting in New York Oct. 4.

Happy Holzapfel took no part in the fighting. Before it broke out, he had been watching the show with half awareness, and working on business matters with the other half. He had enjoyed many nights of unbroken sleep of late, so many, in fact, that he could just about conclude that the bicycle thing was licked for good.

Tomorrow he would fire his two Ute employees, and put operations back on a businesslike basis all along the line. No more kowtowing to a silly guilt complex which probably hadn't existed in the first place.

Having made his decision, he was able to put full attention on the show.

By Jove, this thing was turning into a brawl of large proportions! Somebody ought to do something. The only trouble Holzapfel liked was that in the engines of his customers' automobiles. In amazement he watched Chief Wronker being hurled from the stage.

Something hit him in the thigh and spun him. Then he was hit in the belly and went down. The Cubs of Den 73 were making a retreat in a solid mass on their bicycles. Two more of them bumped over him before they could swing out.

From one eye Holzapfel saw the wheels, heard the rattle of sprockets and loose fenders. O misery! It had come to pass at last. Bicycles would run over his helpless body until time was no more. He's had it.

Holzapfel rested his cheek on the cool sod, with his eyes closed. I knew it! I knew it! The minute I fired those two Indians, it happened. After several moments he raised his head and opened his eyes. The bikes were no longer in sight, just maniacs clobbering each other. Madness, all madness. Then it struck Holzapfel that he hadn't fired the two Utes, he had only decided to fire them. He changed that decision on the spot. Wonderful! Why, it wasn't to land yet to make reforms all along the line. Tomorrow was another day.

He jumped up, so suddenly that a man running toward him could not avoid a collision. "Oh, my nose!" the man said as he reeled back from knocking heads.

"I'm sorry, fellow."

The man wound up a swing, but Happy Holzapfel, a reborn man, went on his bicycle, that is, figuratively, and escaped all harm.

Over by the DAR shrubbery, a man yelled, "Those Utes started the whole thing!"

Stalcup and Finnegan looked at each other. "It's going to appear that way, isn't it?" Stalcup said. "We've got to get this thing straightened out."

"Not tonight you won't. Finnegan shook his head.

Stalcup saw the sheriff's car and the night police cruiser stop in the street and disgorge six minions of the you-know-what. He grabbed Mickey and the Chief and hauled them over to one end of the stage. "Get all the boys and beat it, Chief. Take 'em up to the cabin, Mickey, and mum's the word."

"I don't think we ought to run," the Chief said.

"I think we'd better," Mickey said.

"I'll straighten it out when everyone is cooled down," Stalcup said urgently. "Don't argue. Just beat it."

At 10:03 P. M. a weary and frustrated Chief Wronker waved his hands in disgust at the group of assorted citizens assembled many by request, in the council room. From the facts presented and other evidence, he had come to the conclusion that everyone in Bascomb Park had gone nuts at about the same time. He wasn't about to arrest half the community, including the mayor, for disturbance of the peace and dignity of Wonderful.

"Everybody go home," he said. "If anyone wants to make a complaint, stop at the desk in my office."

Goodykoontz joined Stalcup and Finnegan as they were going out. "Let's go to my place and have a drink," the grocer said.

The draw poker game began at 10:43. At midnight Stalcup thought about telephoning his wife, and mentioned the fact. The sheriff called his office and said he was busy with a hot lead on a robbery case. "If that last hand wasn't that, I don't know what you'd call it."

At 2:01 A. M. Stalcup went broke, borrowed money from Finnegan, who was winning, and thought once more of calling Marcin. But she'd be asleep.

At 3:23 they changed the game to Red Dog.

At 4:18 they changed the game to Seven and a Half and Twenty-one. Stalcup again thought about calling his wife but it was too early.

At 4:37 Stalcup went broke a second time. He started to walk around his chair to change his luck, but he fell over the chair and landed on the sofa. He stayed there.

Goodykoontz and Finnegan began high-carding for all the chips they had left and by 4:52 Finnegan owned them all.

That Was One Maris Wanted

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris hit the home run he wanted most Tuesday night—his 60th of the season. Now he wants one even more—home run No. 61.

"I was beginning to wonder whether I'd ever get it," he said today referring to the historic four-bagger he walloped in the third inning off Jack Fisher, Baltimore right-hander.

"Now that I've got it, I'd like to get one more, just one more." He has four games in which to do it.

First Flag in 21 Years for Cincinnati

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Reds si, Yankees no."

That was the main theme as the long-frustrated Cincinnati citizenry celebrated the Reds' first National League pennant in 21 years with a rash of superlatives for their heroes and a deep bow in the direction of Pittsburgh pitcher Joe Gibbon.

The Reds beat the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in a day game Tuesday evening, a tie for the NL flag, then had to wait for Gibbon to get the actual clinching job done by eliminating the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers with a one-hitter.

That victory, an 8-0 shutout after the Dodgers had remained in contention with a 5-3 victory in the first game of a two-night doubleheader, sent the Reds into the World Series against the American League champion New York Yankees.

The Yankees, who clinched their 26th pennant last week, had their own reasons to celebrate after a 3-2 victory over Baltimore in which Roger Maris hit his 60th home run and matched Babe Ruth's 1927 total.

To ace reliever Jim Brosnan (10-3) went the honor of nailing down Cincinnati's long-awaited pennant. Brosnan set the Cubs down on one hit over the final three innings. Jerry Lynch provided the winning runs with a two-run homer in the eighth that snapped a 3-3 tie.

The Reds' long day started in the first inning when Chicago scored against starter Bob Purkey on Don Zimmer's single, a passed ball and George Altman's double. The Cubs added two in the fifth when the Reds' defense collapsed following a two-out single by Cub starter Bob Anderson.

Richie Ashburn's roller went for a hit when second baseman Don Blasingame failed to rush in, and Don Zimmer was credited with a hit when Gene Freese allowed his tap down third to roll and the ball stayed fair.

Ernie Banks then bounced to shortstop Eddie Kasko but his throw to Blasingame for a force Stan Williams (14-12) with a five-out was wide. Anderson scored and the bases remained loaded. Altman's walk forced in the other bases-loaded triple was the key

Big Game Trophy Bagged by Washington Man

JAMES A. THOMPSON, SON OF MR. AND MRS. W. C. Thompson of Washington, R. I., bagged this rare Dall sheep recently 90 miles from Fairbanks, Alaska. A veteran of 20 years service in the Air Force, he is a special agent with the Office of Special Investigation at Eielson AFB. He killed the pure white ram in the mountainous region near Big Delta, accompanied by Dennis Busby, Fairbanks guide. The ram carried horns slightly over a full curl and measured 36 1/2 inches. The kill was made at 500 yards using a Model 70, 30-06 Winchester and 180 grain bullet. One shot downed this 200 pound animal.

Beyerley in Lead in City Golf Tourney

Homer Beyerley recently crowned Hope Country Club Golf Champion, took a four stroke lead in the City tourney at the end of 36 holes. He fired his second consecutive 70 Sunday while first round winner, Henry Fenwick, faded into second place with a 75.

The final 18 holes will be played Sunday, Oct. 1. In competition so far in the Championship flight, Beyerley has 140, Henry Fenwick 144; Charles Carver 148; Jim Smith, 149 and Russell Carver 149. First Flight: Buster Roy-ton 161; Edwin Stewart 165; E. J. Whitman 166; Mitch LaGrone and George Wright, withdrew. Second Flight: Lynn Harris 173; J. C. Tichley, 174; Jimmy Pilkinton 181; Roy Taylor 87 and Royce Smith, one flight scores.

Injuries to Porkers Are Cropping Up

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks continue to be hamstrung by injuries, with their Tulsa clash only four days off.

M. H. Levine, Thundering Third center, broke his right arm and first unit end Tim Langston re-injured his left shoulder in Tuesday's practice session.

Trainer Bill Farrell said Langston would probably get to play in the Tulsa game Saturday. But for Levine, the season is over.

blow. That was the Dodgers last chance. Gibbon completely subdued them in the nightcap, allowing only a leadoff sixth inning pinch-hit single by Bob Aspromonte.

The Pirates won it in the third, chasing Don Drysdale (1-10) with a five-run spurge after two were out.

In the only other NL game, Milwaukee beat St. Louis 9-2. Joe Adcock's three-run homer in the first inning off Ray Sadecki (14-10) gave Lew Burdette (18-10) a cushion he never relinquished.

In other American League games, Kansas City whipped Detroit 8-5, Cleveland defeated Minnesota 3-2, Washington edged Los Angeles 7-3, and Chicago and Boston split, the White Sox winning the first 7-5 and the Red Sox taking the second by the same score.

Likes Malvern Over Bobcats There Friday

By WICK TEMPLE
Associated Press Sports Writer

It may not mean anything to the outcome of the Big Nine Conference race (or again it could!) but the Pine Bluff-Blytheville game Friday night may produce some of the best high school football of the season.

Blytheville has won three in a row and is at its highest point since it entered the Big Nine.

Pine Bluff is smarting from a 6-0 loss to Fort Smith which the Zebras could have won.

The two factors spell good, close football, and as tough a game as you'll see in the Big Nine Conference. Blytheville has an excellent chance at an upset but Pine Bluff still gets a narrow favorite's role because it's the opposition.

The Big Nine Conference schedule is pretty cut and dried, with Little Rock II heavily favored at Texarkana and Hot Springs the underdog at Central. That one may be a surprise, though.

Springdale is picked to win its fifth in a row and remain unscored on in a game at Van Buren. Jonesboro, with four in a row, should roll easily over Newport. Smackover is the choice over Magnolia in an important Region 4A game and Benton is picked to continue its sweep in a game with Little Rock Central.

Here is the week's outlook: Pine Bluff 13, Blytheville 7. It'll be worth the trip, and watch for a Blytheville upset. El Dorado 14, North Little Rock 6. El Dorado righted itself with a 7-0 triumph over Lake Charles. Normilrv h showed Little Rock II 31, Texarkana 7. Unless it rains. In that case 30-7.

Little Rock Central 7, Hot Springs 0. Same score as last year. The Trojans seem to play their best against the Tigers, and the Tigers aren't at their best (31-0 loss to Texarkana, Tex.)

Around Class AA: Fayetteville 14, Rogers 0. Fayetteville hasn't shown much offense. Rogers hasn't shown... period.

Russellville 28, Harrison 6. Cyclone much stronger than early ratings. Could give Benton a run in 3AA.

Springdale 14, Van Buren 0. Van Buren largely unaccounted for despite 19-0 loss to Fort Smith. This conservative estimate.

Helena 19, Forrest City 0. Will the Mustangs win one? Jonesboro 20, Newport 0. Probably be worse, Jonesboro's just getting warmed up at 4-0.

West Memphis 7, Paragould 6.

good one.

The Hogs got in some hard tackling work and Broyles remarked, "We should have been doing it this way all the time."

Fishing Around Arkansas Lakes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Here is a fishing forecast from the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission: Lake Maumelle: Water clear and normal. Bass fair early and late on artificial worms. Crappie fair early and late on live minnows. Bream good on crickets and worms.

Lake Conway: Water clear and 3.75 feet low on drawdown. Bass good on minnows and artificial bait. Bream fair on crickets and worms. Crappie fair on minnows.

Lake Catherine: Water clear and normal. Bass fair on artificial bait and minnows. Bream fair on worms. Crappie poor.

Lake Hamilton: Water clear and normal. Bass fair to good on artificial bait. Bream good on crickets and worms. Trout poor to fair on minnows.

Lake Greason: Water clear and low. Black bass good on eels.

Lake Bull Shoals: White bass fair early and late on Mr. Champ. Black bass fair on jigs and eels. Blue gill fair on crickets.

Lake Ouachita: Water clear and normal. Bass fair on artificial bait. Bream fair on crickets and worms. Crappie fair on minnows. Lake Norfolk: Water clear. Bass fair daytime on crayfish and at Perfect tossup.

De Witt 6, Stuttgart 0. De Witt beat Forrest City, 14-0.

Wynne 20, Marianna 6. Easy one. Wynne's a sleeper in 2AA.

Benton 33, Catholic High 0. The Rockets haven't scored yet. No fuse this year.

Jacksonville 14, Conway 13. A great one. Conway the underdog due to 14-0 loss to Russellville last week.

Nashville 6, Mabelvale 0. Scrapers usually fast in Class A. Malvern 14; Hope 6. Malvern's 3-0-1 chart looks good enough.

Hooks, Tex. 13, Fairview 0. Fairview's lost three straight, and that'll take a lot out of anybody. Camden 21, Arkadelphia 0: An easy warmup.

Smackover 28, Magnolia 7. Magnolia's 0-2-1. Smackover, 2-0-1.

Picking Grid Winners on Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—The college football toughies swing into action this weekend with the result that predicting becomes tougher, too. Last week there were 30 correct ones among the 38 games that reached a decision for an average of .799.

Iowa over California: The Hawkeye quarterback, Wilbur Hollis, can call on too many guns.

Notre Dame over Oklahoma: Neither is up to its par of several years ago, as the TV viewers will discover, but the Irish have more experience in the backfield.

Mississippi over Kentucky: That speedy Mississippi line will be too much for Kentucky's youngsters.

Ohio State over Texas Christian: TCU upset Kansas last weekend and Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State got the message. He's got All-America fullback Bob Ferguson primed.

Michigan over UCLA: Michigan's first team rates with any in the Big Ten.

Alabama over Tulane: You can't win if you can't score—and that Alabama defense is rugged.

Syracuse over West Virginia: Syracuse has football players.

West Virginia only has dreams of yesterday's greatness.

Elsewhere: Baylor over Pittsburgh; Penn State over Miami; Texas over Texas Tech; Duke over Virginia; Georgia Tech over Rice; Washington over Illinois; Kansas over Wyoming.
